Harford County Public Library hosting February events

From Feb. 2 to 28, the Harford County Public Library's Bel Air branch will show an exhibit featuring artifacts, photographs and oral histories from the Hubert V. Simmons Museum of Negro Leagues Baseball.

The exhibit will be shown during library hours.

On Feb. 7, the Aberdeen library will host Vivian Fisher of Enoch Pratt Free Library to examine the life events of Frederick Douglass. The talk will take visitors through Douglass' journey from an enslaved boy on the Eastern Shore to one of the highest-ranking African American men of the 19th century. Fisher will speak from 2 to 3 p.m.

Also on Feb. 7, at the Fallston library, Amy Young from Gunpowder Valley Conservancy will discuss how to grow clean water in backyards and preserve the Gunpowder Watershed. Young will speak from 2 to 3 p.m.

On Feb. 10 and Feb. 28, at the Bel Air library, representatives from the Hubert V. Simmons Museum of Negro Leagues Baseball, Inc. will share the history of the Negro Leagues in Maryland. The presentation will feature artifacts, pictures and video clips from the museum. The presentation will run from 6 to 7 p.m. on Feb. 10 and 2 to 3 p.m. on Feb. 28.
