THINK PINK: A SURVIVOR'S DISCUSSION

Television journalist Geralyn Lucas returns to Harford, discusses her cancer journey

(Belcamp, Maryland – September 30, 2016) -- Television journalist, author and breast health advocate Geralyn Lucas discusses her book, "Why I Wore Lipstick to My Mastectomy," Thursday, October 13, at 6:30 p.m. at the Aberdeen Library, 21 Franklin Street in Aberdeen.

Lucas was diagnosed with breast cancer at the age of 27, having just graduated from Columbia Journalism School and securing her dream job at the television program, 20/20.

At the October 13 event, breast cancer survivors and those recently diagnosed join Lucas to discuss her book and their own journeys after losing hair and health. The discussion will be moderated by librarian Suzanne Vogtman.

Participants are encouraged to pick up a free copy of "Why I Wore Lipstick to My Mastectomy," available at the Aberdeen Library while supplies last, to read before the discussion.

"Geralyn Lucas is an amazing woman. She spoke at the library last year and inspired many women who attended," said Mary Hastler, CEO of Harford County Public Library. "We are fortunate to have her back during National Breast Cancer Awareness Month."

For more information about the October 13 discussion, call the Aberdeen Library at 410-273-5608.

Harford County Public Library operates 11 branches located throughout Harford County. The library serves more than 185,000 registered borrowers of all ages and has an annual circulation of more than 3.8 million. Harford County Public
