VETERANS INVITED TO READING AND DISCUSSION SERIES AT BEL AIR LIBRARY

(Belcamp, Maryland – February 18, 2015) The Harford County Public Library, in a special collaboration with the Maryland Humanities Council, will offer the Veterans Reading and Discussion Series, a unique program giving veterans an opportunity to read thought-provoking writings and share their ideas and service experiences with a group of like-minded people.

Participants in the Veterans Reading and Discussion Series will come together over the course of five sessions to discuss a variety of thematically linked texts with moderator Karen Arnold, former visiting English professor at the U.S. Naval Academy. "With readings representing a variety of eras and types of service, this program offers a mix of perspectives and the chance to really reflect on one's personal service and the larger military experience," said Arnold.

The group will begin on Thursday, February 26th and will meet at the Bel Air Library every three weeks after that, from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. Books will be handed out at the meeting prior to the scheduled discussion. Should one miss a discussion, readings also will be available at the circulation desk of the Library three weeks before the book's discussion. Participants should plan to attend all sessions. Lunch is included as part of the program.
